

As the leader in virtualized mobile networks, Affirmed Networks has vast experience in implementing NFV across the globe and developing best practices from live case studies. Some customers have described their journey to NFV as having multiple phases, beginning with obvious reductions in capex and leading, eventually, to a state of “NFV Nirvana” where the operator can rapidly create and deliver new revenue generating services as well as measure the performance of these services in real time, achieving the necessary service agility to be competitive in the market.
